

Ivy J. Livingston

Department of the Classics
Harvard University
204 Boylston Hall
Cambridge, MA 02138

office ph: 617-496-0618
office fax: 617-496-6720
e-mail: livings@fas.harvard.edu ivyjlivingston@gmail.com

Professional Experience

Harvard University

2013–2005 Preceptor, Department of the Classics

experience includes:

- coordinating of first- and second-year Ancient Greek and Latin programs;
- training and supervising of graduate student instructors;
- advising on placement in the language course sequence and co-developing placement tests;
- advising on undergraduate Language Citations in Greek and Latin;
- serving on the departmental Curriculum Committee;
- working with the Adaptive Technology Lab on materials for visually impaired students of Latin;
- maintaining a website of resources for teaching in the Classics.

2013–2003 Publications Coordinator, Department of the Classics Production Editor, Center for Hellenic Studies

experience includes:

- serving on the Editorial Board of Harvard Studies in Classical Philology
- copyediting and proofreading;
- desktop publishing and template development using Adobe InDesign;
- font troubleshooting and creation of special characters using FontLab;
- communicating with authors, referees, printers, copyeditors, and distributor;
- updating existing, and developing new, web and print outreach materials;
- as of 2010, exploring e-book publication.

2013–2003 IT Liaison, Department of the Classics

experience includes:

- providing hardware, software, website, and social media support for faculty, staff, and students;
- consulting on the purchase of computer hardware and software and multimedia equipment;
- maintaining a tech support website for Classicists.

2002–1996 Assistant Professor of the Classics

experience includes:

- teaching undergraduate- and graduate-level courses on Latin language, literature, and linguistics in the College, Extension School, and Summer School;
- serving as Director of Undergraduate Studies (1998–2001), responsible for overseeing the undergraduate Classics curriculum, advising all Classics majors (ca. 50);
- serving on departmental committees: faculty search committees, the Curriculum Committee, Graduate [Advising and Admissions] Committee, and Job Placement Committee;
- serving on the Standing Committee on the Library (1998–2002) and chairing its subcommittee on preservation (2001–2002).

Interests

Pedagogy of the Classics

- co-developed the Harvard Classics Teaching Colloquium, a graduate-level pedagogy course;
- member of the American Philological Association;
- member of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL).

Technology in education, particularly language learning

- regular attendee of Harvard's Technology in Education and Web Pedagogy groups;
- engaged in ongoing experimentation with Moodle and other course management systems;
- engaged in self-study of PHP, MySQL, Javascript, and other technologies for projects related to language learning, with special attention to mobile devices.

Education

1996–1991 Cornell University, PhD

Department of Classics, Program in Greek and Latin Languages and Linguistics

Dissertation: A Linguistic Commentary on Livius Andronicus (Advisors: Alan J. Nussbaum and Jay. H. Jasanoff)

Awards: Andrew W. Mellon Fellowship, (Cornell Univ.) Sage Graduate Fellowship

1991–1987 Brown University, AB, magna cum laude

Concentration (major) in Classics: Greek and Latin

Awards: Prizes in Latin, Greek, Sanskrit, and Ancient History. Phi Beta Kappa

Publications and presentations

- 2013 “Classical to the Core: Latin as the Lynchpin to the Goals of the Standards” To be presented at the annual meeting of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (co-authored with Melanie Stowell).
- 2012 “Navigating the Five Cs in the Classical Languages.” Presented at the annual meeting of the American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (co-authored with Melanie Stowell).
- 2004 A Linguistic Commentary on Livius Andronicus. Routledge.
- 1997 “The Origin of the Latin Adjectives in -ulentus.” Invited lecture at the University of California at Berkeley.
- 1995 “The Phonology of Latin Pre(he)ndo and Praeda.” Paper delivered at the annual meeting of the American Philological Association.

Websites and social media

Profile: <http://scholar.harvard.edu/livingston>

Tech tips for Classicists: <http://isites.harvard.edu/icb/icb.do?keyword=k52882>

Twitter (news related to Mac, iOS, Classics, and language pedagogy): @IvyJL